Elluminate is built specifically for live, multimedia collaboration. You can educate, demonstrate, and collaborate in real-time over the Internet without the need for travel or teleconferencing. Elluminate has a long list of features that make your meetings and training more effective and enjoyable.

Elluminate helps you work smarter and save money . . .

Two-Way Audio (Voice-Over-IP) - Crystal-clear audio over the Internet without teleconferencing. Use your computer's built-in microphone and speakers or plug in an external headset and mic. No more long-distance charges!

Bandwidth Efficiency - Collaborate in real time, regardless of Internet connection speeds, knowing that everyone sees and hears the same thing at the same time.

Application Sharing, Interactive Whiteboards - Share PowerPoint presentations, drawing tools, or anything on your desktop with participants. You or your participants can edit or add content via moderator-grantable mouse controls.

Record - Saves the audio and video of a meeting or training session as a file for viewing later. The recorded meeting file can be emailed or set as a link on your website, an Employee Benefit Center, etc.

Direct Text Messaging - Instant public and private messages to one participant, the entire group, or a selected group of participants.

Quiz Manager - Allows the moderator to conduct interactive quizzes and surveys, load and store tests, and collect results.

Meeting Moderator Stays in Control - Permission-granting, attendee list and sequenced hand-raising features.
